Information and completion notes

Please complete this form in BLOCK CAPITALS and black ink and return it to: James Hay Partnership, Dunn's House, St Paul's Road, Salisbury, SP2 7BF.

Please ensure that the boxes on pages 4, 5, 6, 7, 9, 10 and 11 are completed.

Part C sets out the Right to capital payments reserved to Donor

Part D The Donor must choose between EITHER
Bare Trust excluding Donor as beneficiary
OR
Discretionary Trust excluding Donor as beneficiary

This Trust should not be signed and dated before the underwriting process has been completed.

Please read the information on pages 1, 2 and 3 before proceeding. The Trust Form (beginning on page 4) should not be used for the James Hay Partnership SIPP or Wrap SIPP products.

The Wrap Discounted Gift Trust is designed to allow payment of the Policy proceeds to the Trustees without grant of probate/administration/confirmation. The Trust form is designed for use with investment bonds and other investments.

The Trust Fund initially consists of a cash sum provided by the Donor. The intention is that the Trustees will use this to purchase one or more investment bonds. However it may include other assets provided by the Donor, such as mutual funds. Before making the gift of the cash sum or other assets to the Trustees, however, the Donor retains "the Donor's Right," which is a right to receive during the Named Beneficiary's lifetime a fixed or increasing capital sum on each anniversary of the creation of the Trust, up to the amount of the Initial Value, i.e. the value of the cash sum and of any other assets initially comprised in the Trust. The Donor's Right is held for the absolute benefit of the Donor and forms part of the Named Beneficiary's estate, but as the capital sums are paid and spent by the Donor the value of the Named Beneficiary's estate will decrease. Any growth in the value of the assets in the Trust Fund will be outside the Donor's estate for Inheritance Tax purposes.

There are two forms of Trust provisions for the Trust Fund, subject to the Donor's Right, and the Donor (or each Donor, if there is more than one) must choose between them. One is a Bare Trust for Named Beneficiaries in specified shares. The other, the Discretionary Trust, is in fully discretionary form, allowing the Trustees to determine who among the Discretionary Beneficiaries is to receive the income and capital of the Trust Fund and in what shares and proportions.

There are important differences between the two forms in their Inheritance Tax treatment. If the Bare Trust form is selected, we consider the Donor will make a Potentially Exempt Transfer in respect of the (discounted) gift for Inheritance Tax purposes and each Appropriate Share will form part of the estate of the relevant Named Beneficiary.

If the Discretionary Trust form is selected, then the making of the Trust will be a chargeable transfer of value by the Donor, for Inheritance Tax purposes, and Inheritance Tax at lifetime rates will be immediately payable on the (discounted) gift to the extent that this exceeds the nil rate band, having regard to any chargeable lifetime transfers of value made by the Donor within the preceding seven years. The Trust form proceeds on the footing that any Inheritance Tax will be paid by the Trustees. If the nil rate band is to be exceeded this will need to be taken into account in deciding on the amount of cash and/or the value of any other assets to be transferred, since the Initial Value, by reference to which the Donor's Right is calculated, is the net amount after any Inheritance Tax (see B(iv) and C(ii)). In addition, the Trust Fund will be treated as being "relevant property" for Inheritance Tax purposes, with periodic charges to tax at 10 yearly intervals and tax on property exiting the Trust or possibly on the termination of the Trust, if the value of the Trust Fund at the relevant time exceeds the nil rate band.

Whichever form of Trust is chosen, any increase in the value of the Trust Fund will be outside the Donor's estate for Inheritance Tax purposes. For this reason, therefore, the Donor must not be named as a beneficiary. If the Named Beneficiary is, then this will prejudice the tax effectiveness of the Trust.

The Trust form and these notes in relation to its use are for general guidance only and are based on current understanding of United Kingdom law and HM Revenue & Customs practice. No responsibility can be taken by the IFG Group for the interpretation of the law or future changes in the law or practice. Tax liabilities and the ability of the Donor in law to set up a Trust are dependent on individual circumstances. We strongly recommend that you take separate legal and taxation advice prior to signing the Trust form and while the Trust is in existence.

COMPLETING THE TRUST FORM

(The numbering denotes the relevant clause in the Trust form.)

The Donor Creating the Trust

The Trust form should be completed by the Donor before transfer of the cash sum and any other assets to the Trustees.

Who are the Trustees?

The Trustees are the future legal owners of the Trust Fund (the cash sum, any other assets initially provided and the assets acquired with it), holding it upon Trust for the benefit of the person(s) specified in the Trust.

B(i) The Donor (to be entered here) is automatically a Trustee.

B(ii) There must be at least one Additional Trustee entered at B(ii) for the Trust to be effective, but up to three Additional Trustees may be nominated. After the Donor's death all the Trustees will normally be required to sign the discharge form issued by the insurer. We strongly recommend that one of the Trustees be independent i.e. someone who is not a beneficiary or Donor of the Trust. Trustees must be aged 18 or over.

All of the Trustees (whether individuals or a Trust Corporation) should be UK resident, as appointment of a non-resident Trustee may have adverse UK tax consequences.

G(ii) The Donor may appoint new Trustees to act with the existing Trustees of the Trust. After the Donor's death, the Trustees may appoint new Trustees.

G(iii) The Donor, so long as there are two Trustees or a Trust Corporation still acting after the removal, may remove a Trustee from office.

What is included in the Trust?

B(iv) The Trust Fund will consist of a sum of cash, which the Trustees will invest in an asset such as an investment bond. Other assets may also be transferred to the Trustees at the same time.

If assets in addition to the cash sum are to be transferred into the Trust at the outset, they should be specified in the Schedule to the Deed.

This type of Trust cannot accept later additions of property.

The Named Beneficiaries

B(vi) The Donor must specify Named Beneficiaries whichever form of Trust the Named Beneficiary chooses.

If the Donor chooses the Bare Trust form the Named Beneficiaries will benefit in the Appropriate Shares. If the Discretionary Trust is chosen the Named Beneficiaries are the persons who will benefit in the Appropriate Shares in default of the Trustees' exercising fully their dispositive powers, i.e. if the Trustees omit to make an appointment in favour of one or more persons from the list of Discretionary Beneficiaries at B(vii) (see below), or if the Trustees make an appointment of some but not all of the Trust assets.

The Named Beneficiaries and the Appropriate Shares cannot be altered after the Trust is created. This is important in the case of the Bare Trust option. It is less important in the case of the Discretionary Trust option since the Trustees can always exercise their discretion in favour of any of the Discretionary Beneficiaries, and the Donor can always add new Discretionary Beneficiaries (see The Discretionary Beneficiaries below).

In either case the Donor must not be a Named Beneficiary in order to ensure that the tax effectiveness of the Trust is not prejudiced.

If a Named Beneficiary dies, the Trust provides for the Named Beneficiary's share to pass to the Named Beneficiary's estate. If the Discretionary Trust option is taken the share of a Named Beneficiary may be appointed away by the Trustees to any of the Discretionary Beneficiaries at any time during the Trust Period (125 years from the date of the Trust), whether or not the Named Beneficiary has died.

The Discretionary Beneficiaries

B(vii) This provision only applies if the Discretionary Trust option is selected.

The Discretionary Trust form gives a range of Discretionary Beneficiaries in whose favour the Trustees may appoint the whole or part of the Trust Fund, either permanently or revocably. This means that the Trustees can override the Donor's choice of Named Beneficiaries and Appropriate Shares. During the Donor's lifetime, however, this can only happen with the Named Beneficiary's consent (see clause F(i), proviso (A)).

An appointment is effected by a simple signed and witnessed deed made by the Trustees.

Subject to any such appointment any income of the Trust Fund, unless accumulated, is distributable as it arises among the Discretionary Beneficiaries, in such shares as the Trustees, acting by a majority, decide. This decision does not depend on a Deed of Appointment being executed.

The Discretionary Beneficiaries include the Named Beneficiaries, the Donor's children, remoter issue, siblings, parents and the current, former or surviving spouses or civil partners of any of the foregoing. The Donor may add additional persons to the class of Discretionary Beneficiaries by completing the space provided at B(vii)(f). The Donor may also add additional persons to the class of Discretionary Beneficiaries at any time by a signed document given to the Trustees while the Named Beneficiary is alive or by will, or by a codicil to their will.

The Donor must not be included as a Discretionary Beneficiary, as this will prejudice the tax effectiveness of the Trust.

The Donor's Right

- C(ii) The Donor must choose between alternatives (a) and (b), striking out whichever is not to apply and inserting in the retained alternative the desired rate of withdrawal. If alternative (a) is chosen the rate should not exceed 5% if the tax deferred withdrawal facility is not to be exceeded. If alternative (b) is chosen the tax deferred withdrawal facility will be exceeded whenever and as soon as the cumulative percentage rate exceeds 5%.

Choosing the form of Trust

- D. The Donor must initial the appropriate box to choose between the Bare Trust form and the Discretionary Trust form.

If the Donor initials the Bare Trust box in Part D the applicable Trust provisions will be those in Part E. If the Donor initials the Discretionary Trust box in Part D the applicable Trust provisions will be those in Part F.

If there is more than one Donor, they must choose the same form of Trust and each must initial the relevant box.

Signing the Trust

- K. The Trust form must be signed by the Donor(s) in front of a witness who must sign against each signature. The witness must be independent, over 18 and not a relative of the person whose signature is being witnessed.

The Additional Trustees should sign at the end of the Trust form, adding the date of their respective signatures. This is to confirm acceptance of their appointment as Trustees. The signatures of all the trustees must be witnessed. A witness must be independent, over 18 and not a relative of the person whose signature is being witnessed.

Once signed, the Trust form must be returned to James Hay Partnership for noting and return. When returned to you, it should be kept with the policy document and other Trust papers.

HMRC Trust Registration Service

New or existing trusts are required to register if they generate a tax consequence of any kind. This could include income tax, capital gains tax, inheritance tax, stamp duty land tax and stamp duty reserve tax.

Also where a trust is already registered details need to be updated any year there is a tax consequence.

Bare Trusts do not need to register.

Part C sets out the benefits that will be paid to the Donor. Briefly, provided the Donor is alive the Named Beneficiary will become entitled to a capital sum on each of the anniversaries of the commencement of the Trust up to a maximum of the initial settled amount.

This power of removal shall be exercisable only if there are at least two persons remaining as Trustees after the removal of any Trustee, unless a Trust Corporation remains as sole Trustee after the removal.

H. Trustees' Powers
